

Indigent Defense Workload Data

Second Report

State of Nevada

Department of Indigent Defense Services

Third Quarter: January 1, 2022 - March 31, 2022

FRAMEWORK FOR FUTURE SUCCESS

This is the second installation of quarterly caseload and time reporting prepared by the Department of Indigent Defense Services (DIDS) pursuant to the Stipulated Consent Judgment in the case of Davis v. State. As required, these reports include: public defense caseload numbers; attorney, staff, investigator, and expert hours spent per case; motion work; number of trials over the reporting period; and private workload.

These reports are more than just numbers and totals, though, they are the framework for things to come. They are the groundwork for us to build quality, equitable, and sustainable indigent defense systems that strengthen local communities and guarantee the constitutional mandates that protect each of us. The Department strives to collect and publish the most accurate data possible. However, for various reasons offices may be underreporting their time worked or number of cases. The Department is working with each of these offices to increase accuracy, but is challenged by the fact that these offices are not compensated for reporting their time.

This data is not just about complying with the reporting requirements of Davis. It is about creating information that provides previously unavailable pictures of how hard public defenders across the state are working and under what circumstances. With this information, DIDS can identify where additional resources are needed, so we can create a better network and more access to resources for all Nevada communities.

And this is just the beginning. Working together with our growing network of qualified indigent defense providers across the state, we will continue to make Nevada's communities stronger, more resilient, and better equipped for the future.
